From the Author

The concept for Home-Based Eldercare: Stories and Strategies began when I was invited to speak at the Christian Family Eldercare Conference held in Denver, Colorado in 2015. Included on the speaker roster were many experts in the field of healthcare. My role was to address eldercare from the perspective of one "in the trenches," however, offering practical and encouraging insights for others who were considering whether to care for their loved ones at home.

As I prepared my presentation, I realized that I had too much important material to cover in a one-hour workshop--there would be many unanswered questions. So I compiled the additional material into an ebook for those who wanted more in-depth information.

Home-Based Eldercare was well-received at the conference and Generations with Vision contacted me about publishing a print edition. It has been a pleasure to work with them to bring this timely information to a broader audience.

From the Back Cover

"This book is a must read for anyone who is presently caring for a loved one or who may in the future. It is both professionally and endearingly written with a wealth of information. The material in the Appendices is especially valuable."

~Mary Ann Lind, PhD., author, missionary, and caregiver

What shall we do about Mother?

Most of us haven't thought much about caring for our parents--they have always been the ones who cared for us. But now Dad's health is failing. Mom's memory is slipping. How can we best show honor for our aging parents?

Marcia Washburn writes with transparency about the joys and challenges of caring for adult relatives in her home over the years. Home-Based Eldercare is a Caregiver's Bootcamp of stories and strategies for those who wonder whether they will be able to care for their loved ones.

Using practical illustrations, Marcia gives advice about legal issues, emotional and spiritual care, personal caregiving, and much more.

Marcia K. Washburn has authored over fifteen books on parenting, home-based education, music, and eldercare. She writes from her home on the High Plains of Colorado where she and her husband care for his mother. Visit her website at MarciaWashburn.com for information about her speaking and writing ministry.
