About the Author

Author K-Rahn Vallatine was once a wayward youth himself. After a series of wake up calls, he made a decision to be committed to both the betterment of himself mentally and spiritually and to those in the community around him. He works on the frontlines mentoring and assisting both “at-risk” and what he calls “beyond risk” (those who are currently or formerly incarcerated) youth. Throughout the years, K-Rahn has made waves as an underground Hip Hop artist, has previously served as a school teacher, teaching in both the private and public school systems, has sat on the Board of Directors of a charter school, has years of experience working in Los Angeles’ juvenile halls and juvenile detention camps, and has stood as a keynote speaker for conferences, youth empowerment events and webinars. He has recently written a Hip Hop Life Skills curriculum, entitled Live Above The Hype. This curriculum analyzes Hip Hop culture to promote character development & pro-social values, merging social-emotional skills with cognitive learning. K-Rahn merges his entertainment talents and resources with his background in education and juvenile justice.
